

Intellectual Disability Annual Forum

GUEST SPEAKER

Professor Eric Emerson

Eric Emerson is a Professor of Disability and Health Research at Lancaster University and a Professor of Disability Population Health at the University of Sydney. He is also Co-Director of the English specialist public health observatory for intellectual disabilities (www.ihal.org.uk).

Eric is responsible for liaison between the International Association for the Scientific Study of Intellectual Disability (IASSID) and the World Health Organization, and is an active disability researcher.

He previously held appointments at the University of Manchester, University of Sydney, University of Kent at Canterbury and in a range of health care organisations in the UK and Canada.

Les White and Maria Heaton, Co-Chairs of the ACI Intellectual Disability (ID) Network, would like to invite all Network members and interested people to the annual Intellectual Disability Forum.

The ID Network includes people from a wide range of interest. Come and hear what the subcommittees have been achieving, the work of the Tier 4 pilots and share your ideas on where we are heading from here.

The Forum will be opened by The Hon. Jillian Skinner, Minister for Health and Minister for Medical Research.
