'In transit' performance and workshop with DirtyFeet

'In transit' is a free and accessible dance performance and workshop at Riverside Parramatta, as part of STARE FEST - an inclusive arts event coordinated by Riverside Theatres' Beyond the Square for International Day for People with Disability.

Four young professional dancers with and without disability will perform excerpts from the dance theatre work 'In transit', followed by a free public workshop. 'In transit' is choreographed by Sarah-Vyne Vassallo and will take audiences on a journey exploring life's transitions - the constant changes, choices, and directions that we face everyday.

'In transit' is a creative participatory activity celebrating the diversity of young artists with and without disability.

DirtyFeet is a Sydney-based not for profit contemporary dance organisation supporting independent dance artists and promoting community engagement in the arts.
